EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Leadership is a sticky wicket. When the person in charge permits himself or herself to be influenced by the team members or groups it could lead to a lot of chaos, injustice and even failure in the long run. The Panchatantra records a tale which reflects such a situation. A crow, jackal and elephant happened to belong to the inner circle of lion's friends. They lived happily till a camel came along. The lion was impressed by the good natured animal and accepted him as a friend.

However, his old friends could not digest the presence of a newcomer. They often told the king that the camel should be killed. The lion invariably ticked off the bizarre idea of breaching the trust of the docile camel. Years rolled by. The lion fell sick. He was no longer able to hunt. His friends fetched him his meals every day.

The equations amongst the friends had not changed. The original trio looked upon this situation as a golden opportunity to send the camel to his death. By now they had also realised that their king did not harbour any animosity for the camel. So they worked out a plan collectively. They told the king that they could not find any prey that particular day and he could eat one of them. They would be only too happy to give up their lives to nurture the life of their dear friend. They also cited scriptures which celebrated such a selfless sacrifice of friends and loyal citizens. The lion accepted the idea, albeit half heartedly. Accordingly, the crow, jackal and the elephant offered themselves as victuals to the lion.

They rejected one another on the grounds of being either too small or too big for consumption. The camel who was completely unaware of the wily net cast by the trio took the bait and offered himself to the lion. No sooner the words were uttered; the trio praised the camel and pounced on him immediately. The lion joined them with the impression that the camel had chosen to martyr himself as assign of his solidarity.

Invariably the odd man out brings out the worst among old companions out of a sense of inexplicable insecurity. At such time it becomes the onus of the leader to verify facts before plunging into actions which can prove to be detrimental in the long run. — S. Radha Prathi in Deccan Herald

Man has been living money-free for over 15 years

Bristol: Mark Boyle, aka The Moneyless Man, gave up on using money in 2008 and has been living a money-free lifestyle ever since.

Having graduated with a degree in business and economics, Mark Boyle found a good job at an organic food company in Bristol, UK. But everything changed in 2007, during a friendly philosophizing session with a friend. That's when he realised that money was at the root of most problems and remembered Gandhi's famous quote: 'Be the change you want to see in the world'.

Soon after that, Mark sold his expensive houseboat, moved into an old caravan that someone donated to him because they just wanted to get rid of it, and began his money-free existence.

VOICE OF THE READER

No rear number plates on many motorcycles

Sir,

I have noticed a concerning trend where many young individuals riding motorcycles do not have rear number plates on their bikes. Often, they ride with two pillion passengers on the back and speed at high velocities. Even the Police seem to face challenges in addressing this issue.

These riders are often aware of where Traffic Police checkpoints are set up and avoid those routes by taking alternative routes through side streets. The city outskirts, in particular, have become a haven for these riders, as there is limited or no Police presence for checks and enforcement in those areas.

Sandalwood actors and real-life couple Vasishta Simha and Haripriya add glamour; tribute paid to erstwhile ruler of Mysore Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar

Social Welfare and Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa beating the drum to inaugurate 'Dasara Yuva Sambhrama-2023,' an eight-day cultural extravaganza, at Open Air Theatre in Manasagangothri in city last evening. He is accompanied by sandalwood actors Vasishta Simha and Haripriya. Also seen are Corporator Bhagya Madesh, University of Mysore Registrar V.R. Shylaja, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, Mayor Shivakumar, MLC C.N. Manjegowda, MLAs T.S. Srivatsa (partly seen), K. Harishgowda & D. Ravishankar, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra, Superintendent of Police (SP) Seema Latkar and Mysuru Zilla Panchayat CEO Dr. K.M. Gayathri.

Mysuru, Oct. 7 (SBD&BS)- Dasara Yuva Sambhrama-2023, the eight-day cultural extravaganza began on a colourful note at Open Air Theatre, Manasagangothri in the city last evening, with an ode to erstwhile ruler of Mysuru Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar.

A troupe of students from Sri Adichunchanagiri First Grade College, H.D. Kote, presented a dance ballet on 'Grandeur of Mysuru Dasara and The Role of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar in Making of Model Karnataka,' shaking legs to a medley of songs — Nammora Kayo Doreye... and Mareyodunte Mysuru Doreya... to the applause of the gathering.

The students of Srikanteshwara Industrial Training Institute (ITI), Parashurama Temple Street, Nanjangud, cast a spell of devotion by dancing to the song Nanjanagudinda Huliyaneri Banda Elu Maleya Madappa... The girl students of Smt. Putteeramma Residential Special School for Deaf Girls, Vaghdevi Nagar in the city, presented a dance ballet on 'Women's Empowerment.' Likewise more than 20 troupes displayed their talent in the annual event, that will be held till Oct. 13 daily from 5 pm to 10 pm, with 12,000 students from total 400 colleges expected to showcase their talent.

Earlier the programme began with the rendition of Nada Geethe (State Anthem), followed by the reading of Preamble of Constitution by Registrar of University of Mysore V.R. Shylaja, that was reciprocated by the gathering who rose on the occasion.

It was followed by the formal opening of Yuva Sambhrama, with Social Welfare and Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa beating the drum.

Sandalwood actors and real-life couple Vasishta Simha, also a Mysurean and Haripriya were the star attractions of the evening, setting the mood of the event. Simha who narrated a few dialogues from his hit movies, later belted out the song Marethe Hodenu... from his film 'Dayavittu Gamanisi,' that was also originally sung by him for the movie.

He also rendered a few lines from the hit number Neecha Sullu Sutto Nalige... from 'Kirik Party,' another chartbuster song 'Ethake Bogase Thumba Aase Thumbide...' from his (Simha) wife Haripriya's runaway hit movie 'Bell Bottom.'

Simha also recreated the magic of all-time hit song 'Koorak Kukkrali Kere, Thelok Karanji Kere...' from the film 'Nenapirali,' the lyrics of which was penned by his guru Hamsalekha who had also scored the music for the flick.

Recalling his early days in Mysuru, Simha said: "Back in the year 2004, I had come to this venue to catch a glimpse of my guru Hamsalekha's event. But when I attempted to have a word with Hamsalekha, I had to taste the wrath of the watchman. However, still I met Hamsalekha and met him in Bengaluru again later on his invitation, which changed the course of my life. Everybody has talent, but we have to identify and make an attempt at honing the skill."

Haripriya said: "I am besotted by Mysuru since long and had visited the place earlier like a daughter visiting her place. Now I am here as the daughter-in-law and also embraced marital bliss in the city. For the first time, I am sharing the stage (with my husband) also in Mysuru. I had to miss my studies for giving more priority to cultural activities. Hence you should focus on education along with cultural activities."

Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, also the Dasara Special Officer, said: "It's my first Dasara, as I haven't even watched Dasara programmes on TV also, for some other reasons. However, this time I have got the privilege to be a part of the annual festival directly which is indeed a matter of happiness."

Puneeth Kumar, an amateur artist, gifted a portrait of the actor-couple to them, besides presenting his deft talent by sketching a portrait of Simha on the spot.

Chamaraja MLA K. Harishgowda presided over the programme. Mayor Shivakumar, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, MLAs T.S. Srivatsa and D. Ravishankar, MLC C.N. Manjegowda, Superintendent of Police (SP) Seema Latkar, also the Deputy Special Officer of Dasara Yuva Sambhrama Sub-Committee, Secretary of the Sub-Committee R. Prathap, Co-Secretary Dr. Ningaraju, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Mysuru Zilla Panchayat Dr. K.M. Gayathri, Corporator Bhagya Mahadesh, DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj were present on the occasion.

Mysuru-based Kaynes Technology expands business to Telangana

To invest in a Rs. 2,800-crore semiconductor plant; to generate direct employment for over 2,000 people

Telangana Minister of Information Technology, Electronics and Communications and Industries K.T. Rama Rao (fourth from right) with Kaynes Managing Director Ramesh Kunhikannan (fifth from right), Kaynes Chairperson Savitha Ramesh and others in Hyderabad yesterday to officially announce the establishment of a semiconductor facility in Telangana.

Mysuru, Oct. 7 (BCT)- Mysuru-based Kaynes Technology has entered into an agreement with the Telangana Government to establish a semiconductor plant in that State with an investment of Rs. 2,800 crore.

"The company has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Government of Telangana to establish an Outsourced Semiconductor Assembly and Testing (OSAT) and Compound Semiconductor manufacturing facility in the State," as stated in its exchange filing yesterday.

This proposed facility will be situated at a 40-acre area in Kongara Kalan, adjacent to the upcoming electronics manufacturing facility of Foxconn, as mentioned in the statement. The projected investment is anticipated to create employment opportunities for over 2,000 individuals, as per the filing.

K.T. Rama Rao, the Minister of Information Technology, Electronics and Communications, and Industries, met with Kaynes Managing Director Ramesh Kunhikannan and Chairperson Savitha Ramesh to officially announce the establishment of this facility in the State.

"We are thrilled to collaborate with the Government of Telangana for our prestigious OSAT/Advanced therapy medicinal products (ATMP) plant in Hyderabad. The speed at which the Telangana team worked is truly exceptional," said Kunhikannan.

It is worth noting that in August of this year, Kaynes Technology also entered into an MoU with the Government of Karnataka to establish OSAT and Printed Circuit Board (PCB) manufacturing facilities at Kochanahalli near Nanjangud, with a substantial investment of Rs. 3,750 crore. This partnership is expected to create 3,200 job opportunities through the synergistic combination of expertise.

In Telangana, Kaynes is venturing into OSAT/ATMP services through its subsidiary, Kaynes Semicon. Kaynes Semicon will provide support to customers globally in QFN, SOT, TO, BGA, and FC BGA type packages for power devices in the first three years. Additionally, Kaynes Semicon is in the process of establishing a cutting-edge R&D centre for package research in collaboration with IIT Bombay.

Yesterday's meeting was attended by Jayesh Ranjan, Secretary of Telangana Industries and IT, E. Narsimha Reddy, Vice-Chairman and Managing Director of TSIIC, Sujai Karampuri, Director of Electronics, and Raghu Panicker, CEO of Kaynes Semicon.

'Not moving out of Karnataka'

Mysuru, Oct. 7 (BCT)- Following social media reports of Kaynes Technology moving out of Karnataka to set up a semiconductor plant in Telangana with an investment of Rs. 2,800 crore instead of setting up the Rs. 3,750-crore semiconductor manufacturing facilities at Kochanahalli near Nanjangud, Mysuru, the company has clarified that it will not move out of Karnataka.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Col. Sharath Bhat, President, International Business, heading Market and New Initiatives at Kaynes Technology, Mysuru, dismissed these reports as unfounded.

"Semiconductor business has various aspects and components where manufacturing facilities can be set up at various places. There is no question of moving the semiconductor manufacturing business out of Karnataka. For Kaynes, Karnataka remains an important destination in the development of the electronics ecosystem including Semicon," he said.

"Our proposed investment in Telangana alongside Karnataka is part of our larger plan to place India in the global semicon map. We will also continue to invest in bringing the latest technologies and ecosystems to Mysuru," Col. Bhat added.

A sister city can help Bengaluru city, not tunnels

On Thursday, the Deputy Chief Minister of Karnataka said the Government would float a global tender in the next 45 days to build underground tunnel roads in Bengaluru, 190 kilometres of it! But it is only an expensive and temporary fix.

Underground tunnel roads will help decongest certain junctions in Bengaluru, but only if the project is completed soon enough. If it takes too long, the vehicle volume will have increased so much that it won't be efficient.

Underground roads are complex to build and costly to maintain. That apart, there are obvious safety concerns, too. We cannot rescue people from a tiny 30-foot-long underpass in Bengaluru. Can you imagine what will happen if there is flooding in an underground road kilometre long?

Regarding financial viability, building and maintaining underground roads is exponentially more expensive than surface roads. Here is an example of how costly and time-consuming underground roads are.

In Boston, United States, they built a 12-kilometre-long underground road through the heart of the city. It took them 15 years to complete and cost them 2.6 billion dollars, that's about Rs. 20,000 crore! Going by the Dy.CM's number, it will work out at Rs. 450 crore per kilometre in India. Let's hope they're not cutting corners to build cheap.

Even if our Government manages to build 190 kilometres of underground road and manages to decongest traffic, over time, this won't be enough as vehicle volumes increase. This is where public transport comes in.

The Dy.CM wants to take a team to explore Singapore's underground road. But we must ask, why are we implementing a system that Singapore stopped implementing in 2017?

Singapore has shut down its underground road project called Singapore Underground Road System (SURS) because, as the SURS website says, "enhancements to our public transport network... has removed the need for SUR." Maybe while we build tunnel roads, we also need to improve our public transport system.

The key to decongesting a city is an efficient, clean, safe and comfortable public transport system, not a free, chaotic, unclean and unsafe one as we have now.

Good public transport brings in a 'culture of using public transport,' which is the real game-changer. Road widening has never been and will never be the long-term solution to decongesting roads or reducing pollution.

The Government will be well advised to spend significant money on new electric city buses, provide more stops, expedite Metro Rail work, double the BMTC fleet and change the current policy to allow cycles on the Metro to enhance the first and last-mile connectivity.

But again, sadly, just public transport is not the answer, as London has proved. London was the first city to get underground rail in 1863! It was built with keeping the future of the city's traffic in mind.

Over time, they kept expanding the underground rail network and today, it is 470 kilometres long and serves over 50 lakh people a day, yet it's not enough. London is at the top of the heaviest traffic congestion index list.

So, what is the answer to decongesting a city? The answer is building new cities or developing tier-2 cities for growth.

As observed in a news report in the business newspaper 'Mint', the key lies in understanding the phenomena of agglomeration economies and diseconomies.

Agglomeration economies is the benefit that comes when firms and people are near one another.

In the case of Bengaluru, the concentration of firms and population in an area led to a higher accumulation of knowledge and labour to draw from. This led to a rise in productivity and increased concentration of people and firms. But then...

This led to 'agglomeration diseconomies', which is the economic disadvantage of becoming too big. In the case of Bengaluru, there was massive demand for scarce land, making housing expensive, causing severe traffic congestion, increase in pollution and crime rate. This means Bengaluru has clearly reached its 'optimal capacity' to be a liveable city.

It would be wise for our Government to take the advice of people like Economist Ruchir Sharma, who, in his book 'The Rise And Fall Of Nations: Ten Rules Of Change In The Post-Crisis World,' said that creating new cities with a population of 10 lakh or over is essential.

According to Sharma, such cities become the desired growth engines with their cost advantage in labour and land. They can help reduce the burden from other mega cities such as Bengaluru, which are well above their optimal size limit.

But Sharma also points out, "The lack of a manufacturing revolution in India because of infrastructural deficiencies and regulatory maladies like employment-unfriendly labour laws has contributed to the under-proliferation of large new cities." The Dy.CM must work on this as a long-term solution to decongest Bengaluru.

Underground tunnels and efficient transport will help Bengaluru decongest for some time. Still, in the long run, Bengaluru needs a sister city to handle the burden of industrialisation and ever-increasing population and Mysuru seems the ideal city to help. But for that, Mysuru has to be fixed up and prepped for the expansion. The time has come to take the 10-year-old 'Greater Mysuru' plan seriously.

October's Heritage Walk called off as only two register

Mysuru, Oct. 7 (RK&BCT)- The regular Heritage Walk, scheduled for the first Saturday of every month, was cancelled this morning due to very poor registration. The Heritage Walk offers a unique and unconventional experience, allowing participants to explore Mysuru's architectural marvels. This initiative is organised by the Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage.

The Department had recently reintroduced the Heritage Walk concept and had previously announced that it would be a recurring event, taking place at 6.30 am every first Saturday of the month. Interested individuals were encouraged to register for free at the Department Office located at the Karnataka Exhibition Authority's premises.

However, this month's Heritage Walk had to be cancelled due to a lack of response from participants. Typically, participants are led by knowledgeable resource persons and trained guides who provide valuable insights into the history and significant landmarks along the selected route of the Heritage Walk.

State demands Rs. 4,860 cr. from Centre

When asked about reports that the State Government has planned to issue large-scale new liquor licenses, CM Siddharamaiah categorically ruled out any such proposal. The Government will hear the voice of the people while taking any decisions, he added.

When questioned about the planned Mahisha Dasara celebration atop Chamundi Hill on Oct. 13, the CM retorted saying that the Government has never celebrated Mahisha Dasara.

Pointing out that some organisations have planned to celebrate Mahisha Dasara, he said that the DC will look into the matter.

Referring to caste census, Siddharamaiah said: "When I was the Chief Minister, I had appointed H. Kantharaj Commission to carry out an Educational, Social, Economic and Political census. Though the Commission presented its report, the then CM H.D. Kumaraswamy did not accept it. Later, the BJP Government which came to power, appointed Jayaprakash Hegde as the head of Karnataka Backward Classes Commission, which is expected to submit its report by next month."

Arguing that caste census was needed for building an equal society based on social justice and the ideals of social reformers and philosophers, the CM said that his Government will take an appropriate decision after the Hegde Commission submits its report.

The CM refused to answer questions on the recent statements of senior Congress MLA and Veerashaiva community leader Shamanur Shivashankarappa on Lingayat officers getting a raw deal in Government postings, which has stirred a row, saying that he would not speak on the matter.

Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre, MLA Darshan Dhruvanarayan, MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah, KPCC Women's Wing State President Dr. Pushpa Amarnath, City Congress President R. Murthy, District President Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar and others were present during CM's arrival at the airport.

The theatre has played a bigger role in shaping my career as an actor and singer." He (Sajju) also sang 'Olithu Maadu Manusa Nee Irodu Mooru Divasa...' emotionally touching the audience.

Dr. Bettakote said "Being a graduate in theatre I am also aware of the importance of theatre to the society. Theatre teaches values, equality, brotherhood, love and affection among people. The service of Rangayana founded by B.V. Karanth is worth memorable as it has grown into a behemoth institution. It has also provided a platform for the students to showcase their talent through College Rangotsava. It is also essential for the Government to give further preference to theatre activities."

Following the inaugural session, students of Hardwicke Independent PU College staged the play 'Kindari Jogi' written by Kuvempu and directed by Noor Ahmed Sheikh. Students of Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham staged 'Pariju' written and directed by Rajesh Madhavan at Bhoomigeetha on Friday evening.

MGP's monthly meeting on building a vibrant NGO

Mysuru, Oct. 7- No need to tell the obvious that we the consumers are not treated as Kings as often mentioned during the World and National Consumer Days nor are we treated as masters in Democracy when we celebrate Constitution Day or discuss Sovereign Rights of citizens.

"We the people are Masters, Not Servants" has remained only as a slogan on paper. If we want to achieve these twin objectives, we need a vibrant NGO in city. Keeping this in mind, Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) has organised October monthly meeting to discuss how we the people can contribute to develop such a vibrant NGO in Mysuru.

All interested Mysureans, who wish to get involved, are urged to participate in this monthly meeting to be held at MGP office, #6/1, Vivekananda Road, Yadavagiri, tomorrow (Oct. 8) at 4 pm. For details, contact Ph: 0821-2515150.

Greater Good Teens Talk 2023 in Mysuru on Sunday

Mysuru, Oct. 7- Greater Good Teens (GGT) Talk 2023 has been organised tomorrow (Oct. 8) at Ranga Rao Memorial School for Differently Abled.

This is an annual event that is organised by a team of enthusiastic volunteers. It is a free public and not-for-profit event. GGT was founded by Reena Sonigrah in 2017 with the intent to pay-it-forward to Mysuru as a social good initiative for teens' well-being. It aims to promote teens' well-being through collective learning and sharing. Every year pre-teens, teens, parents, grandparents and learning enablers come together to learn and share.

This year, Greater Good Teens Talk is affiliated with international projects supported by World Health Organisation (WHO). The GGT team got involved in conducting surveys to support "What Young People Want Campaign." Many teens expressed their thoughts about their well-being. They also expressed hindrances for their well-being. The GGT team also organised an Art for Well-Being event at The Hobby Place in the month of June.

GGT Talk on Oct. 8 (11 am to 1 pm) will have sixteen young speakers (from differently-abled and mainstream schools/colleges) sharing their views on the topic 'Love What You Do, and Do What you Love.'

This event is listed as a national event and recognised as a teens' well-being event conducted in support of Global Forum for Adolescents and 1.8 Billion Young People for Change Campaign, coordinated by PMNCH and hosted by WHO. The outcome report of the event will be shared with PMNCH coordinators. For details, contact Mob: +91 99807-70875.

World Deaf Day at Gopalaswamy Shishuvihara on Oct. 8

Mysuru, Oct. 7- Sakshama Mysuru has organised Ashtavakra Jayanti celebration and World Day of The Deaf on Oct. 8 at 4 pm at Gopalaswamy Shishuvihara, Nanjumalige in the city. Vidyanidhi scholarship for specially-abled students will be given at the programme.

President of Maharaja Education Trust (MET), Mysuru, Dr. S. Murali, Assistant Professor at NIE, Mysuru, Vedamohan and Vice-President of Mysuru District Deaf Association Mahesh Varma will be the chief guests, according to President of Sakshama Mysuru Dr. Chandrashekar and Secretary Arunachala Sharma.

WORD OF THE DAY

Quorum

Pronunciation: KWOR-um.
Meaning: Quorum refers to the smallest number of people who must be present at a meeting in order for official decisions to be made. Broadly speaking, quorum may refer to any select group.
Origin: It takes two drama queens to tango, three Nervous Nellies to change a lightbulb, and 218 U.S. House Representatives to constitute a formal meeting. Each of these minimums—especially the last one—may be described as a quorum. This word, which can be pluralised as quorums or quora, comes directly from the Latin word quorum, which translates as "of whom." At one time, this Latin quorum was used in the wording of the commissions granting power to justices of the peace in England. Later, when it became an English noun, quorum initially referred to the number of justices of the peace who had to be present to constitute a legally sufficient bench. That sense is now rare, and today quorum is used to refer to the minimum number of people required to be present at a meeting in order for official business to take place. It can also be used more broadly to mean simply "a select group."
Example: "There has been criticism of several councillors not appearing at committee and council meetings over the last two years forcing some meetings to be cancelled because of a lack of quorum." — Kevin Werner, The Hamilton (Ontario) Mountain News, 14 July 2022.

THE ODD WORD

Quadrifoliate

Having four leaves.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Queer the pitch

Meaning: You use phrase 'Queer the pitch' to explain the act of ruining, interfering with, or even completely spoiling something, usually related to business.
Origin: Sometime around 1812, people started to use the term "queer" as a synonym for "ruin." An example can be found in statements like "the milk's gone queer," which describes spoilt milk. It's not exactly clear when the term "queer the pitch" came into use as an idiom.
Example: "Jack was just getting into his call to action when someone in the audience started shouting in an attempt to queer the pitch."
